President's Diligent Work Brings Accreditation Nearer

Each profession and trade develops its own vocabulary. Higher education has its own, a long with the others. One hears such stock words and phrases as "motivation," "co-curricular," "GPA," "student generation," "educational ferment," "curriculum building," "Honor system," "late-leave," "advance make-up". To the man in the street these tools of our trade would be as clumsy in his mouth as a stethoscope in the hands of a blacksmith. But they mean a great deal to us here at George Fox. They are our stock and trade.

When we look back along the corridor of the years to view again the academic year of 1956-57, it may be well that the concept of "ferment" will loom large in retrospect. For this year, without a doubt, can be characterized by its advances and changes, many of which are for the best, we trust.

Not the least in its far reaching implications is the honor system- not full in effect yet, but on the way! The others tumble into our minds: a well-ordered Freshmen initiation, extended orientation, inspirational chapels, a "famous" choir, another year of breaking the conference scoring record, three men on the all-conference basketball squad, the student lounge, new ASB constitution, inauguration of Pi Gamma Sigma, plans on the Student Union, Graduate Record Exams, Freshman Park, and a few other firsts—first grads in joint-degree from OCE, first grad in joint-degree from SOC, first grad in affiliation with Museum Art School, first foreign student grad.

There has been educational ferment, and this has been a year of accomplishment.

Dean Reports Noted Progress In Raising Academic Standards

DIVINE DISCONTENT. . . . Thorwaldsen, the sculptor, on one occasion when he was adding a few finishing touches to one of his masterpieces— a statue of Christ— was found by a friend in a very depressed and despondent mood. When questioned as to the cause of this untimely depression, the sculptor gave this answer— pointing to his work, he said, "I can see no fault in it; my genius is decaying; it is the first of my works that I have felt satisfied with."

None of us has come to feel satisfied with George Fox College. Administration, faculty, constituency, the student body and all realize that there is room for vast improvement in our entire college program. Rather than becoming satisfied and content we have been quite vocal in expression of discontent. This is a measure of the high standards we hope to attain and of the depth of concern which is felt for the strengthening of our college. All of us realize that continuing progress is being made in every area of the college.

In none of these areas are we in the final stages of putting on the finishing touches. Neither are we an unwieldy block of granite or a shapeless mass of clay. We have a sure foundation with a growing and adequate program of instruction and high purpose and aims for the future. George Fox College is a successful growing institution of higher learning of which we are proud! We are proud of our students, our academic program, our campus, and we are proud of the high purpose of the college in the education of young people in Christ for time and eternity!

May we always be "divinely discontent," continually pressing "toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

The A Cappella Choir had an extensive tour this year, traveling as far south as Long Beach. A total of eighteen days were spent touring from the Newberg area, to Eastern Oregon and into the Los Angeles, San Francisco areas, and back along the Coast highway through the Redwoods. Fifty-two concerts were given and a little over 3,000 miles were covered. Many points of interest were visited.

Coach Steve Ross had a big job this year building a "team" from a small and inexperienced squad. The fellows were hampered by bad weather most of the season, but did a good job, considering their size and lack of experience. Linfield and O.C.E. completely outmanned our boys; but they proved their worth against P.S.C. The first game was played in a rain storm and our Bruins came out on the short end of a wet 8 to 6 score. The Homecoming game proved a different story. The first half was played on even terms; but then the Quaker lads began to roll when Chuck Newkirk completed a pass to Mary Hampton for the first touchdown, later in the game Hopper intercepted a Viking pass for the other touchdown giving us a 12-6 victory.

Foxmen End Season in Blaze of Glory

After a slow start, Coach Beebe's blue and gold warriors developed into a team that will long be remembered in George Fox's basketball history. A new scoring record was made when Western Baptist of Portland fell before the striding Foxmen to the tune of 114 to 27. Bill Hopper, the red headed Junior showed his worth by setting a new three year scoring record. Bill broke Rolly Hartley's old record of 1,026 points and added 178 more for good measure for a total of 1,204.
